

brass balls bobbbers sponsors the 2009 biker fusion party

Brass Balls Bobbers is a sponsor for the 2009 Biker Fusion party held Thursday night at The Dog House Bar Daytona on Main St. to raise funds for soldiers' angels. Proceeds from this year's event underwrite backpacks for the Black Hawk Medevacs and wounded soldiers in Afghanistan.

The backpacks contain blankets, sweat pants, hoodies, toiletries and phone cards for wounded soldiers who have undergone emergency evacuation from a combat area.

An A-list of custom motorcycle builders, industry workers, and media gathered together to support the troops. To start the party rockin Exile Cycles' Russell Mitchell and Love Hate Choppers' Ami James took the stage to begin the bidding wars.

The first item on the block, a skateboard deck with wicked custom paint that would be signed by the custom builders in attendance, sold for $700. An electric guitar that Billy Lane customized sold for $1500.

Of course no party would be complete without a hot beauty contest.

About Soldiers' Angels

Soldiers' Angels is a volunteer-based nonprofit. They have over 30 different teams supporting all branches of the U.S. Armed Forces. Through special projects, dedicated teams and individuals supporting our troops, they make a visible difference in the lives of our service members and their families.
