

Biker Fusion at the Dog House

Snakebit Sam » 06 March 2009 » In News » Email Post

Last night, March 5th, a Biker Fusion was held at the Dog House Bar on Main Street in Daytona Beach, Florida. The Biker Fusion is an event where enthusiasts get to meet with a large number of the elite of the custom bike industry. These elite donate their time so the proceeds of the event benefit the Soldiers Angels program. One of the things the Soldiers Angels do is send kits to service people around the world. These kits include essential sundry and toiletry items that are hard to find where the recipients are stationed. The kits help to remind people of home at that the people here haven't forgotten them over there. For more info on the Soldiers Angels program or to donate to it: www.soldiersangels.org.

Kudos to those who donated their time to the Soldiers Angels program and those who attended the Biker Fusion and helped raise money to in a small way thank our service people.